LOCAL BRIEFS.—

And still it rains.

Maj. P. C. Dowd, of Charlotte, is in the city.

Senator Thurman, of Ohio, was born in Clinton, N. C.

The coffee rise is exciting some alarm with the old chronic drinking females.

J. B. Martin, bookkeeper in the State Treasury Department, is confined to his bed by sickness.

J. D. Harrison, corner Martin and Fayetteville streets, has just received a fine new cheese. See notice elsewhere.

The recent improvement to the Presbyterian church grounds and building adds a great deal to the beauty and symmetry of the church.

Messrs. Mahler & Blake have shipped from their celebrated Thomasberg vineyard, in this county, about 12,000 lbs. grapes this season.

It is understood that Lucy Stainback, the alleged murderess of her husband recently in Warren county, will be put upon trial at Warren Court on Monday.

Our young friend Dobbin, one of the leading salesmen at Tucker's, has returned from a summer vacation to Rabbs Island, where he says he had a good old time at duck hunting. We would reasonably suppose so, judging from the many fancy movements he was making around a "duck" of a little girl when we overhauled him in Norfolk.

R. P. Spiers, Esq., of Halifax, arrived in this city yesterday to receive the sum of $5,000 from the Brooklyn Insurance Company, represented here by Capt. A. W. Lawrence, he having a policy in this Company to that amount upon his father's life, who recently died at his home in Virginia. Mr. Spiers also held a similar policy in another Company, which has also been arranged.

THE HENDERSON FAIR.—The Henderson Tribune, speaking of the Annual Fair to commence at that place on the 7th of October, says:

"The approaching Fair of the Central Agricultural Society at this place, will excel all others heretofore held, in number and quality of stock, agricultural products and implements and fast horses. The track has been fixed up in fine style for trotting, and in truth is the best track in the State."

HOW NOW!—The American paper published at Brussels, France, announces the arrival in that city of Col. W. H. H. Tucker and lady, of North Carolina, en route to America. Can it be possible that this confirmed old batchelor has at last surrendered his freedom and liberty, and to a foreign lady at that. But for the fact that newspapers never lie we would be almost compelled to doubt this strange story.

TRINITY COLLEGE.—We learn that the fall session of this institution of learning is commencing with fine prospects. The new building is going up rapidly and grandly—it will be a beautiful structure. The Faculty are all at their posts.

The Good Templars are flourishing in the vicinity of the College.

GRANGE MEETINGS IN CHATHAM AND WAKE.—E. W. Pou, Esq., State Lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, has made the following appointments in Chatham and Wake, for the purpose of organizing Granges: Carey, Monday, Sept. 1st; Apex, Tuesday, Sept. 2nd; Hillsboro, Wednesday, Sept. 3d; Egypt, Thursday, Sept 4th.

THE DAILY NEWS.

VOL. II. RALEIGH. N. C., SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 30 1873. NO. 163.

MEETING OF THE CITY COMMISSIONERS.—At a regular meeting of the Board of City Commissioners, held Wednesday evening the 27th inst., there were present, his Honor Mayor Whitaker presiding, Commissioners Johnson, Prairie and White, (white,) and Ellison, Jones and Ricks, (col.)

Proceedings of last meeting read and approved.

An election to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Commissioner Upchurch resulted, after five unsuccessful ballots, in the choice of H. T. Clawson.

The accounts approved by the Auditing Committee, were on motion of Commissioner Johnson allowed by the Board and the Clerk ordered to issue checks therefor.

A communication was received from George V. Strong, Esq., on the part of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, in regard to mortgaging the new fair grounds for their completion.

In regard to the same, Commissioner Ellison offered a resolution authorizing the State Agricultural Society to mortgage in fee the new fair grounds, provided the Society shall relinquish the right to mortgage the same for a further or larger sum.

Commissioner White offered an amendment that the sum so raised shall be applied exclusively to the completion of the payment of the purchase money of the said grounds, and for improvements on the same.

The resolution and amendment was adopted.

H. T. Clawson, the newly elected Commissioner, appeared and was duly qualified.

Amount of accounts allowed by the Board for expenses of the City Government for the month of August, $3,100.

Adjourned to meet again at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

JACKO, THE MONKEY.—A member of one of the largest mercantile dry goods firms of Fayetteville street, has a pet monkey, Jacko by name. Jacko, is represented as unusually bright and very sharp and clever at his tricks. The first trick of Jacko's was the imitation of his master cleansing his teeth, in which he used the brush, glass and sozodont so amusingly that the next morning a very piously inclined neighbor was invited over to witness the "monkey show." All was in readiness, the neighbor standing at the door and Jacko playing about the room. The master with his coat off, walks up to the dresser, cleans his teeth, leaves the brush, sozodont and water "lying around loose," then steps aside to make room for the show. True as he had said, Jacko mounts the dresser, seizes the brush, applies the sozodont, cleans his teeth and lays his brush down. Just here the show should have ended, but Jacko, a little rascal, seized the glass of sozodont water, drank it off and smacked his lips. There is a little moral just here which others having tame monkeys might profit by.

OXFORD ITEMS.—Our Oxford correspondent, under date of yesterday, says:

Capt. James Thomas, of your city, is sojourning here for a few days.

There is a protracted meeting being held in the Methodist church of this place.

Messrs. Cooper & Williams have had their large store painted. They are constantly receiving new goods.

The school of Messrs. Horner and Graves is now in a prosperous condition, they have about 75 scholars. Think they had better let "well enough" alone and not go to Hillsboro.

Have had rain a plenty in the last two days. Our farmers think that with a good season, they can make half a crop of corn and plenty of the "weed."

Mr. John C. Taylor, a gentleman of the old school and one highly esteemed in this community, died last Friday of consumption.

THE GOOD WORK GOES BRAVELY ON.—The work of improvement goes bravely on in the city. Old things are passing away and new ones the order of the day. The old brick pavement in front of Mahler's jewelry store is being repaired with the beautiful Schillinger stone pavement, and we were informed by Capt. Brain yesterday that he has contracted for over $2,000 worth of the same work at other places on Fayetteville street. Maj. A. G. Lee has commenced work on his fine residence on Newbern street. The large and handsome new residences of W. G. Upchurch, on McDowell street, Chas. Allen, on Hargett and Capt. Andrews, on Blount, are all approaching completion and will be ornaments in their respective sections. We hear of several other fine residences for which contracts have been made that are to be built this fall. Roll on the ball.

A GOOD INVESTMENT IN A SMALL WAY.—Mr. George Poe, of this city, about a year ago, bought in Massachusetts a pair of Cochin China fowls. The hen laid during the past season sixty-two eggs; of these fifty-eight were set and fifty-four chicken hatched; of these forty-five were raised. The original pair cost $19.50, and Mr. Poe holds the young ones at $5 the pair or $7 the trio. He has already sold $20 worth, and still has on hand, at the same valuation, some $200 worth. This shows what can be done by attention with a little capital.

Col. Saunders, Editor of the Wilmington Journal, who has recently been in this city, gives a lengthy and interesting description of the new State Fair Grounds. He thus concludes his article:

"Upon the whole, therefore, between the music, the racing, the fine stock and other articles on exhibition, the speaking, the new grounds, the crowd, the reunion of old friends, the coming State Fair promises to be a grand success. We trust it may do so, for we have promised ourselves to be there."

TAKE HIM DOWN.—Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, is away up, been lifted up, can't get down. He says in speaking of the effort of Miss Eddins at a recent musical concert in that city, "Her strains were really soul-stirring, and

Lifted us above the air and
Stir of this dim spot
Which men call earth."

Will not some of the patrons of the Observer in Charlotte assist this young man to alight to this "dim spot." Take him down and put him on a pork and bean diet for three days. We think it will have the desired effect of weighting him down.

REFEREES COURT.—Messrs. Primrose and Alford sat together as referees in the office of Maj. A. M. Lewis yesterday evening in the matter of M. W. Williams vs. The Phœnix Fire Insurance Company. This suit is for the payment of a hogshead of bacon destroyed in the late fire on Hillsboro Street, which was insured as part of the stock of merchandise of Williams in the above Company. The Company through their counsel, Major A. M. Lewis, claims that the bacon was not destroyed, and refuses to pay. Judge Fowle appears for Williams. Pending the examination of witnesses the Court adjourned till this evening at 5 o'clock.

THE CATAWBA WHITE SULPHUR.—We are glad to learn that the attendance upon these Springs this season has been larger than for many years past. Visitors are still arriving daily. Among the prominent visitors who are there now, or who were recent visitors, we notice the names of Hon. William A. Graham and lady, Hon. Wm. A. Smith, Mr. E. M. Holt and family, of Alamance, Dr. John Williamson, of Caswell, James Humphill, Esq., of Chester, S. C., Hon. Kemp P. Battle, of Raleigh, Col. J. L. Brown, of Charlotte, and Hon. Matt W. Ransom and family.

A Nebraska man imagined himself a potato-bug, and treated himself as he would one of those insects. He is now planted where they don't usually grow potatoes.

One of the most painful feelings the heart can know is to learn the unworthiness of a person who has hitherto shared our good opinion and protection. We are at once mortified at our mistaken judgment and wounded in our affections.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin editorially is of opinion that the price of coal will be high this winter. The vast coal traffic of Pennsylvania is now almost entirely in the hands of few gigantic corporations. They under took in the spring to regulate prices so as to prevent a stagnant spring and summer, and an over crowded autumn traffic. The mode adopted was to increase the wholesale rates ten cents a ton each month, and the production was checked to such a degree that this was readily effected. Furnace men and others fortunate enough to have use and storage for large quantities of coal throughout the summer, purchased early and saved money, while the masses who have waited for their coal until the time came to use it must pay the penalty of higher prices. Many, however, have taken the alarm thus early, and the dealers are overrun with orders, which they are unable to fill. There is said to be a deficiency of half a million of tons below the anticipated demand this year. How true the information of the Bulletin is we do not know, but as Philadelphia is a large depot for coal supply, it is probably correct. Baltimore, Gazette.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR AN AMERICAN SCULPTOR.—We are pleased to announce that M. Ezekiel, the talented young artist, formerly of this city, has gained the prize of 1,500 thalers in the Michaelbeer competition for the best original ideal statuary in relievo. The award was made on Sunday, August 3d, at the Royal Art Academy, in Berlin, from which institution Mr. Ezekiel graduated with high honors about one year ago. Until this year foreigners were not allowed to compete for any of the prizes, but in this instance the Senate of the Academy decreed that no exceptions would be made.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The State Granges of Wisconsin held a meeting at Watertown on the 26th. What they want, they state plainly. They demand the opening of the Fox and other rivers, so as to cheapen water transportation, and a declaration by Congress and State Legislatures that railroads are national highways, subject to the control of the law.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A correspondent of the Ruckhannon Delta, writing from Franklin, says: One of the most miraculous escapes from destruction and death was made on Wednesday, August 6, by Dr. D. Campbell and Dr. Chenoweth, of Beverly, West Virginia. As Dr. Campbell was driving over Alleghany mountain in his dental wagon, one of the horses became frightened and crowded the other off the road over a precipice of a hundred feet. Just as the team went over they both leaped from the wagon, barely reaching the bank. The horses and wagon all went down with a crash; and what is most astonishing the horses were not killed and may get well.

WIDENING BROADWAY.—The work of widening the most famous street in New York goes ahead steadily, and the traveller who has not seen it for a year will be wonder-stricken when he sees it again. If cities—great cities that men had deemed finished years ago—find it wise to expend millions in widening streets and pulling down fine houses to build finer ones in their places, one would think it peculiarly incumbent upon budding cities to do a great deal to fit themselves for the circumstances and dignity of a real city.

The Katie Putnam Combination this fall will consist of Katie Putnam, May Nugent, Mary McWilliams, Mrs. S. A. Nash, Agnes Brennan, Mrs. Sidney Holland, Flin Kennicott, F. Greenwald, J. E. Kirkwood, T. Kirkwood, prompter; George Stevens, Charles Henrique, pianists, and T. McCarty, proprietor. The season will commence in Indianapolis, September 1, and thence over the Southern circuit.

The London Times on the English Iron Trade—America Winning the Spoils—Other Foreign Items.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Times this morning has an editorial on the iron question, the burthen of which is that one of the finest markets that England ever possessed for the trade in iron is being gradually closed to her. Her disasters in this direction are not ended. The United States is competing successfully for the control of the iron traffic with Canada, South America and West Indies. They have contested under immense natural disadvantages, but have beaten England in spite of these. She cannot afford to idle and sleep away her time, and waste her money while competing with thrifty, active and inetlligent nations. The Times thinks much of the blame for this state of things it describes should fall upon strikers and trades unions.

A telegram from Liverpool announces the loss of the British ship T. E. Lemon. A portion of the crew is drowned.

Crop Prospects in the West.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The Tribune has crop reports from about forty counties of Illinois, embracing a greater part of the corn growing portion of the State, and from twenty counties in different parts of Iowa. With the exception of half of the counties in Illinois, all put the corn crop at only from a half to a two-thirds average yield, though in some localities where the yield will be short, there is a greater acreage planted than usual. Reports from Iowa vary to those in Illinois. The drought has injured the corn very materially, and the season is so far advanced that rain now would hardly benefit it.

Medical assistance was at once procured from Muir. None of the injured are dangerously wounded.

The Interior Department at Washington is still without advices from Fort Sill. The report of the massacre is generally discredited.

A Washington dispatch says that five sailors made their appearance in Petersburg, Virginia, Thursday, setting forth that they were part of fifteen survivors of the crew of the steamship Lirey, burned at sea, forty-five miles off Cape Canaveral, on the 15th inst. Their names are Charles Williams, George Johnson, J. E. Willis, Geo. Fisher and Thomas Richardson. Two were suffering from terrible burns, which substantiated the truth of their story.

SUNDAY.....AUGUST, 31, 1873.

THE SQUABBLE IN MASSACHUSETTS—BUTLER IN THE ROLE OF MARTYR.

Hon. E. R. Hoar, a Republican member of Congress from Massachusetts, recently wrote a letter denouncing Butler in strong terms, and showing up the Massachusetts Beast in very repulsive colors. Hoar is the leader of the anti-Butler Republicans in the Old Bay State, who favor the re-nomination of Governor Washburn.

Hoar's letter criticising Butler has given the latter a long-desired opportunity of defending himself from sundry charges affecting his political career, and especially his vote on the back salary bill.

Butler opened the campaign for the Gubernatorial nomination in a public address at Worcester, Massachusetts, on the 26th instant, and during his speech he took occasion not only to attempt a vindication of his own course, but to let fly some fiery missiles into the camp of Mr. Hoar and his friends.

As a Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts is always equivalent to election, the aspirants for the Governorship make their fight for the nomination several days in advance of the meeting of the State Republican Convention. The fight this year is spicier than it has been for some time for the reason that Butler, who was defeated two years ago by Governor Washburn for the nomination, is making desperate efforts to get revenge. His friends are organizing Butler Clubs throughout the State, with the view of selecting delegates favorable to his claims. This has given rise to the formation of anti Butler clubs, and between the two, the canvass which is already quite lively bids fair to become one of great bitterness and excitement.

Butler, like Parson Brownlow, delights in personalities. He said, in his Worcester speech, that he never gave up a contest until the other side got sorry. He rolls the charges made against him by Hoar as a sweet morsel under his tongue, for it gives him a chance to hit his adversaries some heavy blows with his ponderous sledge hammer.

He made his reply to Hoar before a crowd which filled the hall in which he spoke, to suffocation—many being unable to gain admittance. He commenced his speech by referring to Hoar's letter and the abuse which had been recently heaped upon himself. He then proceeded to show that this denunciation was no new thing—that it was a regular system of abuse, started several years ago. He said the text came from "further back." He then asked his audience leave to read to them "the first scurrilous attack" he ever received after he went into the service of his country. He said it was as true as most of the other attacks which have been made upon him since. Of this first attack he then went on to say it was a convenient one, because he could contradict it and bring proof of its falsity on the spot. He adds:

"It is dated May 22, 1861, when Mr. Hoar, of Worcester, was safely at home. (Laughter and applause.) It purports to be taken from the New Orleans Picayune, and begins in these words:—'All the Massachusetts troops now in Washington are niggers, with the exception of a few. General Butler, in command, is a native of Liberia. Our readers will remember old Ben, the barber, who emigrated to Liberia. General Butler is his son.' (Laughter.)

This I have the means of showing was untrue. (Cheers.)"

Having excited the sympathy and good humor of his hearers by quoting from a "rebel" paper in 1861, he proceeded to read President Davis' proclamation of outlawry against him in 1862, after the infamous order of the Beast in regard to the New Orleans ladies. He refers to this "second attack" in this style:

"The next newspaper publication that very considerably concerned me was in 1862, also emanating from a distinguished enemy of mine—a former friend—and ran thus:

'Now, therefore, I, Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States of America.'"

Butler then read with strong emphasis Mr. Davis' proclamation, declaring him a felon and outlaw, and authorizing his immediate execution by any one who might capture him. He then read Mr. Davis' second proclamation offering a reward of ten thousand dollars for his capture and delivery to the Confederate authorities. He gravely asked: "Did anybody ever offer half as much as that for Mr. Hoar's head?" This brought down the house, of course.

Referring again to this order of outlawry, he addressed himself to the ladies, who constituted about one-fourth of the audience:

"Now I am going to say something of interest to the ladies who have done me the favor of being present. A daughter of South Carolina writes to the Charleston Courier saying: "I propose to spin the threads to make the cord to execute the order, and my daughter asks that she may be allowed to adjust it round his neck." So you see, my friends, the abuse came early. Yet started by the enemies of my country, it has been re-echoed by mine until the air is full of it."

His speech throughout is a compound of egotism, disgusting self-praise and vain-glory, and if we would only believe him, he is both a hero and a statesman. He gives the Hoar family some occasional thrusts, which seemed to be much enjoyed by the audience, notwithstanding the speech was delivered in Hoar's Congressional District.

It is evident that Butler has struck a deep chord in the popular heart of Massachusetts, by showing how he has been abused and despised at the South. By continuing in this strain, he will stand a very fair chance for the Gubernatorial nomination. Even those who have no respect for his character, will vote for him cordially, because of the odium attached to his name in the Southern States. We think some friend of Butler's, who is anxious for his nomination, ought to collect the principal articles that have appeared against the Beast in the Southern journals, and republish "choice extracts" therefrom.

If the tithe of what has been said in denunciatory of his disgraceful life by our newspapers could be gathered together and scattered over Massachusetts before the assembling of the State Republican Convention, Butler's nomination would be assured beyond peradventure.

A LITERARY JOURNAL.

Mr. T. B. Kingsbury, without intending to relax his labors upon the Sentinel, in the last issue of that paper says he "is willing to devote some leisure time that would otherwise be allotted to recreation," to the columns of a literary journal. "He proposes to revive the Leisure Hour, a paper which met with much favor in this and other States prior to the war, receiving the hearty commendation of the late John R. Thompson, Paul H. Hayne, and other eminent literary men of the South. To do this he must find a gentleman of some capital, of literary training and energy, who will devote himself exclusively to the work. He would be pleased to correspond with gentlemen relative to the project. It is not important whether the paper is published at Raleigh, Wilmington, or Charlotte. It can be made a success if taken hold of with tact and earnestness.".

Our people have always extended very meagre support to their literary papers. This is strange and unaccountable, but is nevertheless true. It has heretofore been an unprofitable field, but we see no good reason why a first class literary journal cannot succeed in the South.

Our Living and Our Dead complains that its friends are backward in furnishing the war material which they promised. Col. Pool is not receiving the patronage which ought to be extended him. How many subscribers has he in Raleigh? He ought to have five hundred at least. Have our people no interest in perpetuating the truth of history? Send two dollars to Col. S. D. Pool, Newbern, N. C., and receive therefor a copy of Our Living and Our Dead for one year. It will be a good investment.

And now the New York Tribune comes forward and defends Holt and the Surratt murder. We expected better things of the Tribune. The attempt of Holt to fasten the crime upon Andrew Johnson shows very plainly that his conscience is torturing him. If the hanging had been a rightful one, why should Mr. Holt be so anxious to shift the responsibility to somebody else's shoulders?

The Northern papers have so often and so unjustly distorted the speeches and sentiments of the "rebel" leaders, that it has become a matter of supreme indifference with the people of the South what these venomous sheets may utter concerning us.

Several of our State exchanges are urging the establishment of cotton factories. The last Franklin Courier has a lengthy editorial on the subject.

Annual gatherings of the "old settlers" in the West are becoming common. On the 5th of September the "Fifth Annual Reunion" of the settlers of Adams and Brown counties, Illinois, is to be held. They have resurrected the notorious Dick Yates as the orator of the occasion.

John J. Knox, the Comptroller of the currency, is in luck. His wife has recently fallen heir to a considerable fortune by the death of her father, Wm. B. Todd, of Washington.

Hon. Carl Schurz, United States Senator from Missouri, is spending the summer at Hamburg, with his family.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ear or tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:
"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from Sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an aperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."
Prepared by E. R. Beckwith, (successor to Dr. John Beckwith) Proprietor, Petersburg, Va. Sold by Druggist generally at 25 cents per box. Joseph Carr, Wholesale Agent, Petersburg, Va.

SUNDAY.....AUGUST 31, 1873.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The crops in Bladen are said to have never looked better.

The Kinston Gazette boasts of a dog that died at the advanced age of 16½ years.

The Tokay Vineyard, located near Fayetteville will convert all of their grapes into wine this season.

The farmers of Lenoir think their cotton crop has been damaged one-third by the recent continued rains.

Wilmington is thinking of investing in "Holly's system of Water Supply and Fire Protection for cities and villages."

The Franklin Courier says that large and interesting revivals of religion have been going on at several churches in that county.

The Milton Chronicle says the wheat crop is not turning out very well in that section, but perhaps better than was expected.

Our Eastern exchanges are sounding forth the "joyful intelligence" that Haight & Co.'s Great Eastern Circus will soon visit that section.

The Kinston Gazette thinks the New York, Norfolk and Charleston Air Line would become a "zigzag" in making Goldsboro one of its points.

Mr. Robert Blow, of Battleboro, a correspondent of the Petersburg Index and Appeal, was thrown from a mule a few years since and seriously hurt.

One thousand and fifty dollars have been subscribed to establish a school, near China Grove on the N. C. Railroad, to be known as the Union Male and Female Institute.

The President, it is understood, has extended a pardon to R. A. Shotwell of this State, now confined in the Albany Penitentiary, but the prisoner has not yet been released.

The Salisbury Watchman pays a handsome compliment to Judge J. W. Albertson for the "impartiality, dignified and business tact" displayed by him in the holding of a recent special term in Rowan.

The Fayetteville Gazette contains an interesting description of the Merchant Mills in that place owned by Mr. Troy. It contains flour, corn and hominy departments, and has a wool carding department attached.

The Charlotte Observer is reliably informed that Mr. Valentine Ripley, an old and esteemed gentleman of considerable wealth, was waylaid about three miles from Hendersonville some ten days ago, and shot to death. No arrests.

A severe rain and thunder storm visited the vicinity of Statesville on Tuesday night, flooding the streams and blowing down much corn. The American says it has not seen a finer display of sheet and chain lightning for a length of time, and occasional terrific peals of thunder that seemed to shake the universe.

The Editor of the Battleboro Advance has just returned from the Buffalo (Va.) Springs, and gives a most interesting account of his sojourn there. Among those from this State, he met there Geo. W. Strong, Esq., Joseph B. Batchelor, Esq., and lady, C. M. Busbee, Esq., and Mrs. B. F. Moore, of Raleigh. Also Col. S. S. Cooper and daughter, of Granville, Mr. Harry Bryan and A. H. Williams and lady, besides quite a delegation of others from Oxford.

The Wilmington Star man has discovered the last curiosity. Says that paper: "We were shown yesterday, by Mr. C. H. Ganzer, an ear of corn which is certainly a curiosity. In its formation it resembles very much a portion of the arm of a human being, one end representing the hand, minus the fingers, the grains tapering in size from the end which was attached to the stalk to that which is in the shape of a hand. This curious specimen was grown at the Belvidere plantation, a short distance from this city."

The Rocky Mount Mail thus complimentary refers to the Fair of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society: "We have received the premium list of the Fourth Annual Fair of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society. It is large, liberal and attractive, which, with the energy and zeal of the officers of the Association, and the industry and enterprise of the people of Halifax and adjoining counties will make the coming Fair superior even to its well gotten up predecessors. Among the officers of the Society, we notice the name of our worthy sheriff, G. N. Lewis, appears as one of the Vice-Presidents. We are glad that Nash is so well represented, and we are sure that the Sheriff will honor his county and the Society by using his immense influence in stirring up the people to the importance of such enterprises and the advantages to be derived therefrom. We expect to see many evidences of the prosperity and advancement of old Nash on exhibition at the Fair on the 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st of October. The names of Capt. J. R. Thigpen and our friend Jos. W. Powell, of Edgecombe, who are ever zealous and substantial friends of the "Weldon Fair," the former one of the Executive Committee, the latter one of the Vice Presidents, insures the support and co operation of grand old Edgecombe. Upon the whole, the next Fair of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society promises to be a glorious success."

The Battleboro Advance, alluding to the same Fair, says: "No Agricultural Association in the State has been better managed than this, and we congratulate the officers on the success which has crowned their efforts to make their society a permanent and valuable institution for Eastern Carolina."

The Wilson Plaindealer thus speaks of this Fair: "The Weldon Fair has been from its beginning one of the most attractive exhibitions of the kind held in North Carolina, and from the liberal character and energy of its officers we may expect its attractions to be greatly increased every year. Hon. M. W. Ransom, who, amongst his other eminent qualifications, knows, by experience on a large scale, something about farming, will deliver the annual address. This will not be the least of the many attractions of the Weldon Fair, but we venture the prediction that things generally will be characterized by the same high degree of good taste and utility which have been shown in this selection."

A Summer Trip to the Mountains--Mica Mining.

MITCHELL Co., Aug. 21, 1873.

We have spent the last week in visiting the mica mines in Yancey and Mitchell counties, and gathering such information regarding them as we deemed would be interesting to the public. The number of mines that have been opened is very large, but I think that very few of them have paid for the labor expended upon them. They are confined to no special locality, and mica is found and mines have been opened in every county in Western North Carolina, but the largest and most profitable are those of Yancey and Mitchell.

Mica is only found in conjunction with, or in the immediate vicinity of white quartz rock, usually lying between it and an overlying layer of feldspar, but very often deeply imbedded in the quartz, and requiring the best of tools and the hardest of labor to separate it. The quartz usually lies in seams at various angles and widths, sometimes vertical, but never horizontal, and presents the appearance of having been forced up from the depth below whilst in a molten condition, the surface rocks being upheaved and split apart to give it passage, and finding these masses of mica in its way, and being indestructible by fire, they become embedded in the liquid quartz or floated on its surface because of their greater specific gravity. It lies in detached masses and in pieces weighing from one to one hundred pounds, and sometimes more, and from three to twenty inches square.

When taken from the mines it is carefully cleaned and split into pieces varying in thickness from a quarter of an inch down to thin writing paper. These are marked out in various patterns as large as they will cut from 2 by 4 inches up to 12 inches square, and range in price from 25 cents to $5 per pound. After they are split and marked, they are cut into shape with a pair of tinner's shears, and thus carefully tied up in packages weighing one pound. It is used extensively, both in this country and Europe in the sides and doors of coal burning stoves, and being indestructible by fire, is the only article ever used for that purpose. There has for many years been an active demand for all that has come upon the market, and at very high prices; but the opening of the North Carolina mines has furnished an increased supply, whilst the demand has not increased, and the consequence is a falling off in price of about 40 per cent.; in the smaller sizes it is probably much greater than this, yet a good mine is very profitable at these figures. I saw one lot sold for $900 that the owner assured me cost him but $40 to prepare for market; but these instances are rare, there are a few good mines, but there hundreds that have never paid a dollar and never will. An immense amount of time and labor has been lost in fruitless search, and I question very much if all the money that has been paid would pay 50 cents per day for all the labor that has been expended; it is a lottery in which a few have drawn prizes, but a vast amount of the tickets have simply been a blank.

A curious phenomenon connected with these mines, and one which instantly arrests the attention of the visitor, is the fact that a very large number of them present evidences of having heretofore been worked, in many instances extensive evacuations have been made and large quantities of mica have apparently been mined from them. By whom and when was this done is a question that has not as yet been satisfactorily answered, and I fear never will be. The various themes that have thus far been advanced have failed to satisfy the closest observer, and it must doubtless remain a mystery, and whilst the mines, the mica, the mode of obtaining and preparing it for market, attracted my attention, nothing so deeply interested me as these evidences of the existence of a people, of whom all else is buried in oblivion. Was it the Indians we found upon the soil? The mound builders who preceded them or a people or nation unknown to either? Or was it De Soto who passed from Florida to the Mississippi in his search for gold? It could not have been De Soto, for he was but two years in his journey, and had but a handful of followers, whilst these works represent the labor of thousands of men. It was not the Indians we found upon the soil, else they would have been continued or traditions of their existence would have been handed down to us. A race that has carried tradition through centuries of the existence of the masterdon and other animals long since extinct, failed to give us any information regarding these. Mica is indestructible, fire will not burn it nor will frost disintegrate or time cause it to decay. If the Indians used it they would have fashioned it into various forms. Some of these in time would have been lost or thrown away, as were pieces of crockery ware, arrows, &c., and some of these in time would have been found again as on arrow heads and other Indian relics, but they have not been. It could not have been the mound builders for they have left evidence of their existence and civilization behind, but mica which is more indestructible than anything they have left has never been found among them. Did the mica miners exist before or after the mound builders? I think they came after, although they did not profit by the advanced civilization of the mound builders, for they, apparently were familiar with the use of metals, and had metal tools. Mica miners were a rude and barbarous race, and used only stone tools, many of which they have left behind. These are of various forms and sizes, but I do not think they have been formed by man, they being in many respects similar to thousands of others that can be picked up from the beds of the streams in the vicinity, but why did they mine it at all, for what purpose was it used, and where did it go? Cortes found mica in use among the inhabitants of Mexico when he invaded it; they made mirrors of it by covering one side with a black varnish. To inquiries regarding its source they invariably replied that it came from the North. Its value was equal to that of silver. Did barbarous Indians living in the mountains of North Carolina mine it and carry it to Mexico as an article of traffic? It is not improbable that they did, though the distance was great and the mode of travel slow. Shells are found in Indian graves along the St. Lawrence that certainly came from the Gulf of Mexico, for they exist no where else in the world. If a traffic could be carried on between tribes residing on the Gulf of Mexico on the one hand, and the St. Lawrence on the other, I see no reason why Indians in North Carolina could not trade in Mexico. The Mexicans are familiar with the use of metal, and mica can only be cut or fashioned in various ways by metal. The Indians who mined it had no metal tools, and for this reason we never find pieces cut in any shape. The conquest of Mexico destroyed the demand by the introduction of a cheaper or better substitute. The mica miners possibly did not live among the mines, or removed elsewhere, new tribes followed them and occupied the soil, who knew nothing of its existence or could make no use of it, and all knowledge of it was soon blotted out from among men, leaving only these half filled excavations or mounds of earth to propound to the modern Anglo-Saxon a conundrum that he will never be able to answer satisfactorily. DOUBLE ACTING FORCE PUMPS

KITCHEN BROS.,

(Successors to CAROLINA PUMP COMPANY, LOCATED IN RALEIGH,)

Are prepared to furnish at short notice the Kitchen Pumps of various sizes with Porcelain Cylinders which can't injure the water. This is a submerged deep well pump, now in use 2½ years without the expense of new packing. We make all sizes, capacity 30 to 150 gallons water per minute, working in every conceivable way and by the use of hose which can be attached in half a minute, these pumps at once become a hand engine of great power, throwing water on the roof of three story buildings, with one hand, and they will stand four to six men safely. We have not heard of one of them being overcome by fire, and yet they have been tested by over fifty fires, saving over $500,000 worth of property. For ordinary use children work them easily if set up by our printed directions, and if so set we warrant them 12 months. Our Double Suction and Force Globe Pumps, also invented by J. L. Kitchen is capable of being used as a Drive well pump and is well adapted to steamers and vessels of any class; one man can throw water on the roof of 3 story buildings. But it has a double ended lever and with four men is a very superior hand engine. The No. 2 Globe Pump is 12 inches in Diameter with 1½ suction and 1¼ discharge pipe and throws 40 to 100 gallons per minute, according to speed. The No. 3 Globe, 7 inches in diameter, 1 inch suction and ¾ of an inch of discharge pipe, capable of 25 to 30 gallons per minute. These Globe Pumps we make of cast iron for common use, brass for salt water and block tin for the inside of houses for drinking water, they lift the water 25 feet perpendicular, and you can sit it in the house and draw water from springs or wells at great distances.

All kinds of steam and water pipes fitted at short notice; hose, hose-pipes and couplings furnished here, &c.

Send for price list. The entire depth of wells with good references must accompany all orders.

Some few of these pumps have not given satisfaction but in each case it has been attributable to the maker and not the principle of the pump. We are now employing the best mechanics only, and are determined to have none other.

Address KITCHEN BROS.,

MR. J. L. KITCHEN:—The pump you put in my well which is thirty-two feet deep, I have been using nearly two years; it has proven entirely satisfactory, and by attaching a hose which I got of you it becomes a local fire engine of invaluable service. JOHN L. KITCHEN, ESQ—

Dear Sir—I have had one of your Force Pumps in use for two years, and it has proved in every respect as you represented it and I would not be without it for twice the cost of it.

Yours respectfully,
R. A. WATSON.

GREENVILLE, April 19, 1872.

MR. J. L. KITCHEN—

Sir—I have been using one of your pumps driven from my steam engine, for supplying my tanks. I have used it continually for two years, and can confidently recommend it for any purpose where water is required. The pump is so constructed that it will last without getting out of order for years, and I have heard no complaint from any of your many pumps used in this locality for yard well pumps.

WM. S. BROADDUS.

John C. Gorman and W. C. Stronach, of Raleigh, give certificates stating that they have had the pump in use one and two years, are perfectly satisfied with it, and it has not cost them one cent for repairs.

Messrs. Wilson and Waddell, at Wilson's Mills, on the North Carolina Railroad, write that the No. 2 Globe Pump, with 150 feet of 1½ inch hose, purchased from the Messrs. Kitchen to protect their mills and sash and blind factory against fire, is the best pump they have ever seen. They will buy another as soon as it can be made, for another well. Several parties have examined their pump and will buy others like them. aug 5-D&Wtf

Lincoln and Grant--A Story from F. P. Blair, Sr.

A reporter who has had a talk with Francis P. Blair, Sr., charges the latter as having spoken as follows of President Grant. Mr. Blair said: "I never underestimated the man. He has a great deal more talent than he gets credit for. He is endowed with that unknown quality called common sense. He is very quick in his perceptions, a good judge of men as well as horses, looks at circumstances, weighs everything carefully, and when his mind is once confirmed in his deductions he acts as decidedly and successfully as any man I ever knew in all my long experience among public men. He is superior to his party—much better than his party in every respect. Now I do not remember of ever having heard in my journalistic days of a third term movement; but I know that Mr. Lincoln wanted a third term.

"Shortly after his re-election the subject was quietly talked over among his most intimate friends. Mrs. Lincoln relished the idea, spoke of it frequently to those she thought she could confide in, and Mr. Lincoln himself was pleased at the suggestion. Perhaps it had a reasonable basis in this case; but we will see. The first term of office had been the most trying a President ever endured. The second term, to which he was assigned in the November election of 1864, promised but little rest. The war was nearly over, and the disorganized seceded States had to be fitted again into the confederation—I mean the Federal Union. The suggestion of a third term came happily to Mr. Lincoln, who hoped to enjoy the last four years with the peaceful honors of his predecessors to crown his retirement to private life. There was something more. Mr. Lincoln's ambition was to see if he could not execute the duties of his office without the aid of Mr. Seward or Mr. Stanton. They engrossed all the authority, dictated what should be done (though Mr. Lincoln only regarded their views as far as he thought proper), and, in fact, constituted themselves the executors of the government. It became a serious question, you must know, with Mr. Lincoln, whether the stability of the American government actually depended upon these two men, and he wanted to test that point. He thought that a nation that could stand the rigorous onslaught of half her people, survive the blow, and resume her wonted tranquility, was not wholly dependent on the heads of the State and the War Department, and is was Mr. Lincoln's purpose to eliminate them and call about him his advisers, and not dictators."

WHITE NECKTIES.—Stephen Girard's will prohibited clergymen from ever entering the doors of Girard College. At a recent visit of the Knights Templars of Boston to the institution, one of the knights, a well-known physician, who wears a white nectie, was passing in, when the janitor accosted him, saying: "You can't pass in hear, sir; the rules forbid it.' "The h—ll I cant ?" replied the physician. "All right, sir,' rejoined the janitor, "pass right in.'

A good story is told of a couple of editors who went into the country lately for a little fresh air, and were put under surveillance as burglars, a residence in the neighborhood having been robbed that morning. The number of free passes in their possession and their lack of available funds was considered sufficient evidence to warrant their release.

An East St. Louis woman's household effects were taken to pay a debt contracted by her drunken husband; but the court decided that as she had earned the money to buy them with they were not liable to seizure under the circumstances.

The largest farm in England is 3,000 acres in extent, and in its cultivation the 'four course' system is adopted; 750 acres being devoted to wheat, 750 to barley and oats, 750 to seeds, beans and peas, and 750 to roots.

A country boy having come to Louisville for a education, being asked, What is a 'strait?' horrified his teacher by answering, 'It beats two pair.' He is on the editoral staff of the Courier Journal.
